OVER 1000 ATTEND AFTERNOON DANCE

Loughlin's first afternoon dance of 1963 attracted approximately one thousand people, Wednesday, January 10. The dance, which ended at 5:30, was preceded by a stage show in the school auditorium at 3:30.

Publicized as "Loughlin's biggest afternoon dance", the entire affair was conducted by Jim Harriet, a disc jockey from station WMCA, who acted as master of ceremonies. The entertainment during the stage show included the Senior Jazz Combo, the Adorations and a solo by Dominic Forte accompanied by Shawn Cannon on the guitar.

During the stage show and dance, Mr. Harriet distributed "WMCA Good Guy" sweatshirts and a number of record albums as door prizes.

The event was arranged by the Afternoon Dance Committee headed by Fred Grieco. Other members of the Committee included: Tom Sullivan, Tom Simonetti, Rich Spagnuolo, Rich Kruszewski, Frank Imbruglia, John Hoeflich, Ray McDermott, Al Peshler and Chuck Nystrom.

Proceeds from this and the other afternoon dances conducted during the school year are used for the support of Senior Activities. According to Fred Grieco, "Mr. Harriet was so pleased with the response of the students present, that it might be possible for another disc jockey to return to Loughlin."

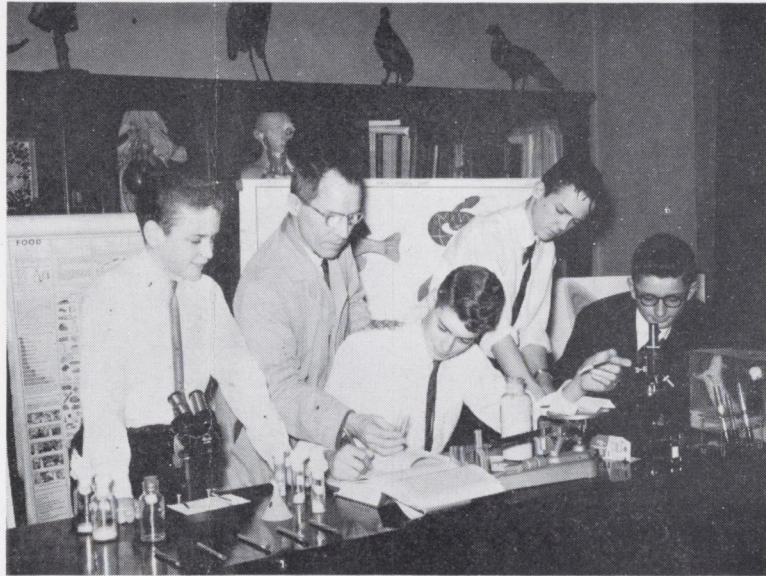

Seniors To Tour Capitol During Washington Trip

One hundred Seniors will participate in Loughlin's Washington Trip, February 21 to 24. The students will tour the nation's capitol in two chartered buses and will be accommodated at the Ambassador Hotel.

The trip will include such sights as the White House, the Library of Congress, the National Shrine of Our Lady, Mount Vernon and the Capitol Building.

Arrangements have been made for the tour by Senior Activities and the event will be under the direction of Brother Aurelius James, Moderator of the Alumni Society. In the past, two such trips were organized, while the present tour will be the only one for the 1962-63 school year though it will include the same number of students that would normally participate.

Annual School Science Fair To Exhibit Student Research

BIOLOGY CLUB prepares projects for science fair. Left to right: J. Sullivan, J. Saur, Mr. Rogers, J. Mc Nulty, H. Krim.

The Science Department with the cooperation of student body will conduct Loughlin's Fifth Annual Science Fair, Friday afternoon, February 22. Taking place in the School Cafeteria from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., the fair will be under the supervision of Brother Albert of Jesus.

The affair will exhibit the investigations performed by individual students in any field of science. Entries may treat one of a number of topics including physics, biology, chemistry, general science, meteorology, medicine, physiology, electronics, engineering and mathematics. An entry fee of fifty cents is required for a place in the fair.

Trophies and certificates will be awarded to the winners by Brother Stephen, Principal. Winners of the school science fair will be offered an opportunity to compete in the Catholic Science Fair within the Diocese of Brooklyn and in the New York City Science Fair. In the past four years, Loughlinites have merited three full scholarships in addition to numerous first, second and third place medals as a result of these competitions.

According to Mr. George Rogers, who will aid in the organizing and advertising of the event, "The aims of the science fair, in general, are to promote scientific curiosity and investigation on the part of students. Great value can be derived from an event of this sort and we expect that many students will respond."

Dramatics Club Presents "Jinxed" To Junior Class

The Dramatics Society, under the direction of Mr. Charles Grosse, presented its second production of the year on Dec. 6, to the Junior class. The play was entitled "Jinxed," by Fran Mosel.

The production concerned the plight of a discontented waiter who finally falls in love with the owner's daughter and changes his outlook on life.

The cast included four juniors and one girl. They were: W. Kavanagh, 325, as Joyce's father; Dermott Kehoe, 311, as the visitor; R. Ferguson, 326, as a truck driver; J. Levasseur, 325, as the troubled waiter; and Ellen Mahady, a Junior at St. Angela Hall, played Joyce.

Students Participate In College Night Sessions

The Guidance Department sponsored its annual College Night, Wednesday evening, January 16. About eight hundred juniors, seniors and their parents participated in the program.

Following the introduction of representatives from five local colleges and two out-of-state colleges by the Principal, Brother Stephen, three thirty-five minute conferences were conducted in assigned classrooms during which the lecturers spoke on the various college programs. At the conclusion of each talk, there was a question and answer period.

The representatives who attended were Mr. Richard T. Waldron of Fordham University, Brother O'Toole, F.S.C.H. of Iona College, Brother Abdon Lewis, F.S.C. and Brother Cyprian John, F.S.C. of Manhattan College, Mr. Paul Dolan of St. Francis College, Reverend Frederick J. Easterly C.M. of St. John's University, Brother Christopher, F.S.C. of La Salle College, and Reverend John T. Corr, C.S.C. of Stonehill College.

In the course of the evening, such matters were touched upon as college requirements, applications for financial aid, and vocations. Brother Raphael, Guidance Director, made this comment concerning the program: "College Night presents an excellent opportunity to ask direct questions of the representatives of the colleges in New York City. This year, we have included two out of state colleges for those interested in boarding; La Salle and Stonehill Colleges. We are sure that both parents and students found College Night a satisfying experience."

Thirty Make Extended Tour of Canada

SKIING IN MONTREAL, Loughlinites pause during day's activities at ski lodge. The group was forced to extend their vacation due to heavy snows. Left to right: F. Laskowski, Brother Rejean, D. Protano, D. Schwally, S. Sitarski, M. Schafani.

Thirty Loughlinites toured Canada during the Christmas recess on a trip conducted by Brother Rejean, December 26 to January 1. The trip, which was made by chartered bus, covered a total distance of 1650 miles.

Together with Brother George, Brother Patrick, Mr. Gehm and Mr. Cochrane, the group left from Pennsylvania Station Wednesday morning and arrived at the Berkeley Hotel in Montreal that afternoon. Among the places visited were Saint James Cathedral and the Shrine of Saint Joseph. The students also participated in such sports as skiing, ice skating, and tobogganing. While in Quebec, they stopped at the Parliament Buildings, the University of Laval, the Shrine of Saint Anne de Beaupre and the Mother house of the Brothers of the Quebec Province.

While returning December 30, the chartered bus broke down in Vermont due to heavy snowfall and twenty degrees below zero temperatures.

Mr. James Bringham, a total stranger, accepted the group, all thirty-five, into his home until they could reach a motel. Since the bus remained unrepared until late the next afternoon, the group improvised a New Year's Eve party at the motel. The following day, the students returned to New York.

Brother Rejean commented on the trip: "It was the best excursion Loughlin ever sponsored. Another such tour may take place soon — in the spring."

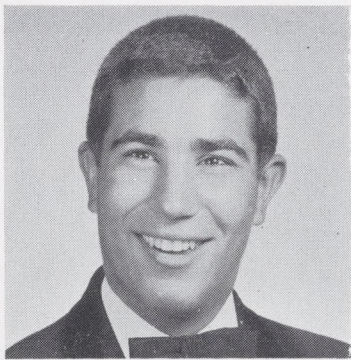

PERSONALITIES

DON STELLER

Pete Caronia, Sports Editor of The Jamesonian, hails from St. Robert Bellarmine parish in Bayside. Pete, a real music fan, specializes in collecting albums of the Kingston Trio and the Limelites. During the senior elections he made the posters for the Gold Party and was a leader in the Bermuda-short sweatshirt bongo campaign.

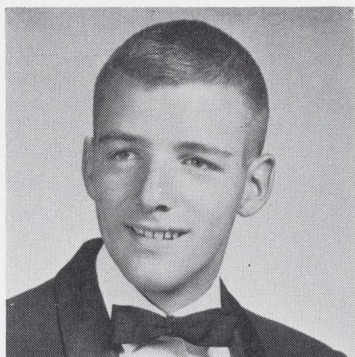

Our sports editor has a fine athletic record on C.Y.O. basketball, baseball and football teams. He also added to this record by attaining a Gold "L" each semester, participating as a cheerleader for 3 years, a member of the Afternoon Dance Committee, 2 years on the Tennis Team and is also a member of the Student Council.

He figures on attending Notre Dame next fall to take a Pre-Med course.

There are so many Wings and Wongs that you might Wing the Wong number.

Where does a lamb go for a haircut?

To a BA-BA.

A man was driving his car along a country road when it sputtered and stopped. He got out and opened the hood to see what was wrong. A horse came galloping along and stopped, tapping the guy on the shoulder and said, "I think you need gas." The man, started, ran into a nearby barn and explained to a local farmer, "I was trying to fix my car when this horse came up to me and told me I need gas." "Was it a black horse with a brown tail," replied the farmer. "Yes" answered the man. "Well don't listen to him he doesn't know anything about cars."

News Strikes Out

New York City's newspaper strike has brought hardships to many. Views are diverse—some hope to have "kicked the habit" before printing resumes, others are sympathetic in general, while many question the role of a newspaper and its responsibility to the community.

In the beginning of December, many expressed fears that the city would be uninformed with regard to news, finance and advertising. This is quite true. The other forms of communication have presented only topics which they thought would make good news. They have neglected the many stories which a large newspaper can cover in its many pages. Sales have fallen off 15% due to a lack of advertising. If this continues, it will result in many people in the merchandising field losing their jobs.

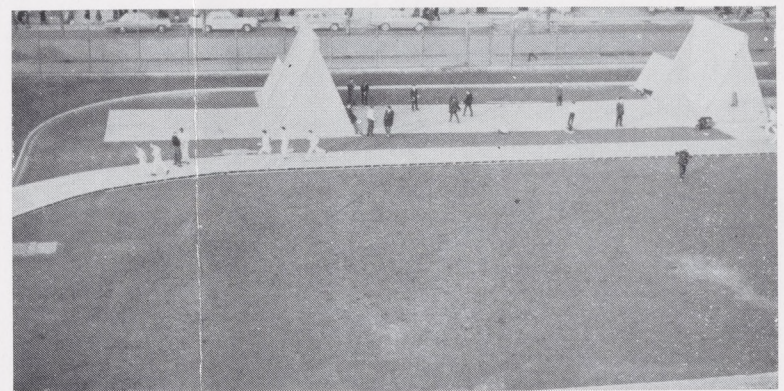

We cannot make any conclusive statement since few facts are known. However, from what information has been given, it appears that the printers are asking for some rather exorbitant increases. This strike first of all, is an inconvenience. It further has caused many to lose their means of support. It is doubtful that Journalism generally will not suffer in the eyes of many as a result of this seemingly blatant irresponsibility.

LOUGHLIN EXPANDS

by DON STELLER

A running board track, 160 yards long, 8 feet wide with 11 laps to the mile sprawls in our schoolyard. As a gift of the Class of '62, it was assembled completely by Mr. Thomas Russo, the school's Chief Engineer, Mr. William Miles, the Track Coach, and Mr. James Lyons, an Alumnus of the Class of '31 from St. James.

Work on the track was begun in early October and was continued on weekends, holidays and evenings. An example of the work that went into the track is seen in Mr. Russo who would arrive here at six in the morning and return home nine at night. Incidentally, the track is the same size as the one used in Madison Square Garden. Mr. Russo and his squad of "amateur" construction workers built the 88 sections of track to avoid the excessive cost that would involve outside help.

Permanent Winter Structure

The structure will remain in the yard during the winter months. The main purpose for the outdoor board track is to eliminate the wear and tear on the coach, moderators, and boys of the track team, who ordinarily have had to journey each afternoon to the 168th Street Armory. After each practice the usual time at which they reached their homes was 7 o'clock. Now life should be easier for the faithful tracksters.

Plans are already in progress and work has been started on an additional 60 yard hurdles track which will run lengthwise between Vanderbilt and Clermont on Lafayette Avenue.

Letters To The Editors

To the Editors:

It would be nice if we had some announcements made during basketball games, such as; the starting lineups, substitutions and individual scoring statistics at the end of each quarter.

Vincent Russo
Junior, 306.

To the Editors:

President Michael Hogan's message in The Jamesonian has shown a lack of foresight in that he should have investigated the possibility of a Driver Education before promising the course to the seniors who voted.

P. Gravenhurst

To the Editors:

Last month The Jamesonian carried an article about Brother Bertin Raymond. This story was well-written, informative, and inspiring. In the future I hope more stories of this type appear in The Jamesonian. This will enable the student body to have a fuller understanding of the men who have been outstanding in one way or the other.

Daniel Walsh
Senior, 117.

To the Editors:

I guess all we seniors should start getting up at 5:30 a.m. so that we can get here early for our senior meetings. No sense having us waste one period a week for such an integral function of our senior year. Most of our problems will probably get solved if we don't get an opportunity to discuss them. Things usually do happen that way.

How about that basketball team! What a season the Lions are having. Undefeated in league play and only one loss for the year, and from what I can see nobody is likely to stop us.

The big wins for the Lions so far, have been those over St. Francis, Brooklyn Prep, and Holy Cross. These teams in my opinion constituted real tests for the prowess of the varsity, on which the team scored 100%. However, this column is being written before the Power Memorial Game, which should be a pretty tough go for the boys, although at this time I foresee no problems in the way of another Loughlin win.

Now let's take a look at the past games and why they were so important. First we have St. Francis. From the tap the game was close and at the half the Lions were only a bit ahead, three or so. Since St. Francis is always tough at home, a rough second half was anticipated. However Willie, John, Jeff, André, Warren and Ronnie had other ideas. They completely dominated the play and piled up a twenty point lead, which at the buzzer had dwindled slightly to 15, a more than substantial point spread.

The Holy Cross Knights were the next victims of the still roaring Lions. Although Holy Cross wasn't supposed to be that good, they surprised the Loughlin "5" with a three man down court press. Slightly shaken, we only had a one point half time lead. It was enough however, because after the second half started the guys added 18 more to it for a 19 point victory over the McIntyre-less Knights. This game was especially important because of a 60-59 loss to them last year. That loss ruined the Lions for the rest of the season and the fruits of victory tasted especially sweet in this case.

Loughlin's next important victory was over the Brooklyn Prep Blue Eagles. A strong league contender the Prepsters brought a tall team into our gym. In the early moments they piled up a seven point lead. The Prep fans went wild, however, that was the last they had to get excited about. The Lions came back strong and with Zarzicki rebounding like a champ, and Wolters, Albies, Violet and Bennia adding to the momentum the Prepsters were soon subdued and Loughlin's hold on first place was secure.

Now about the one loss on our record. The game we lost was to La Salle. We lost by five points. This loss was in the final round of the Christian Brothers Tourney, and we took second place. It is interesting to note however, that we hit 31% from the floor, far below a winning percentage. But they still have to play us at home.

Keglers Striving For League Title

Loughlin's bowling team, led by senior Tom Hebel, met St. Augustine's January 8. The keggers coped two out of three from their weaker foes giving them a season record of 16 wins against 8 losses. However, according to Brother August John, moderator of the bowling team, the keggers will have to begin winning all their matches in order to catch up to the league leading Saint John's Prep, which has a 19-5 record.

Outstanding varsity performances were handed in by seniors Tony Cella, Tom Hebel, Bob Wilderman, and Joe Caracciolo whose averages are 173, 171, 167 and 160 respectively. A setback was suffered during the absence of junior Pat Serao, who has a 169 average.

Brother John predicts a tough first place battle in the second half of the season between the five top teams, since only four games separate them at this time. However, Brother feels that Loughlin's keggers, who are now tied for third, have a good chance for a playoff berth.

Loughlin's J. V. pinmen also won two out of three from St. Augustine's giving them a fifth place spot with a 15-12 record. Nevertheless, Brother John feels that they have a good chance to gain a second playoff spot since they are only 3 games away from it.

Lion Aquamen Splash Along for 3 Wins; 1 Loss Subdue St. Peter's Prep, Hayes and Poly Prep

Loughlin's varsity swimming team continued its season by topping St. Peter's Prep of Jersey. The Lion aqua-men captured six first places. Steve Fontana placed first in the 50 yard freestyle with a time of 26.8. Joe Durkin garnered second place in this event with a time of 27.9. Juniors Bill Harris and Steve Walsh finished one-two in the 100 yard butterfly. Jim Mottle and Ed Haggerty provided another one-two punch in the 100 yard breaststroke. The freestyle abilities of Lazlo Eger enabled him to take first place in the 200 yard freestyle. The aqua-Lions then went on to defeat the Prepsters of St. Peter, 60-34.

The Lions then engaged Cardinal Hayes in a hotly contested match. In the 200 yard medley relay, the mermen comprised of Harris, Christy, Mottle, and Gulotta, annexed first place with a time of 2:01.4. Ed Haggerty contributed eight points to the team's effort by capturing first place in the 100 yard breaststroke and second place in the 200 yard individual medley as Loughlin edged the Hayes mermen, 52-43.

The Purple 'n' Gold then journeyed to Poly Prep. Steve Fontana again placed first in the 50 yard freestyle, this time being clocked in 25.6. Harris and Walsh again placed one-two in the 100 yard butterfly. Dennis Flynn and Jack McKenna garnered honors in the diving competition. Quinn, Mottle, Harris, and Schriefels took first place in the 200 yard medley relay in a time of 2:09. The Lion mermen then proceeded to "drown" Poly Prep, 67-28.

Encountering Uniondale, the varsity met its toughest competitor. Dennis Christy took a first place in the 200 yard freestyle with a time of 2:10.1. Steve Fontana, in a time of 25.2 seconds, won the 50 yard freestyle event. Charlie Gulotta and Ed Haggerty annexed first and second honors, respectively, in the 100 yard backstroke. Sophomore Chris Jones snared individual honors, however, by adding five points to the team's tally when he finished first in the 200 yard individual and another five points when he broke the 100 yard breaststroke pool record in a new time of 1:11.7. At this point in the meet, the score was knotted at 44 all, with only the 200 yard freestyle medley left. The freestyle team from Uniondale edged the Lion freestyles by one-tenth of a second and consequently the Lions suffered defeat by a score of 51-44.

The two most important meets of the season, the Villanova Nationals on February 23, and the City Championships on March 18, should see the Lion swimmers ready for all competition.

Loughlin Cagers Undefeated In League Play Slaughter The Prepsters For Division Lead

Loughlin's varsity basketball team continued its winning ways with six consecutive victories, including a win over highly-rated St. Francis, to bring its overall record to 9 and 0. The Lions also won two games in the Christian Brothers Tournament, during the Christmas holidays, before bowing to La Salle.

December 7 found the Lions traveling to St. Francis, to contest the Terriers who were led by Lloyd Dove and Brian Hill, both returning from last year's team. During the first half Willie Wolters played consistently well and by the end of the half, Dove was in deep foul trouble. As the second half began, Wolters scored and rebounded Loughlin into an 11 point lead at the third period. The Lions held on during the final quarter and when the buzzer sounded it was Loughlin 70, St. Francis 55. The leading scorers were Willie Wolters with 23, while Dove tallied only 11.

Vanquish Redmen And Crusaders

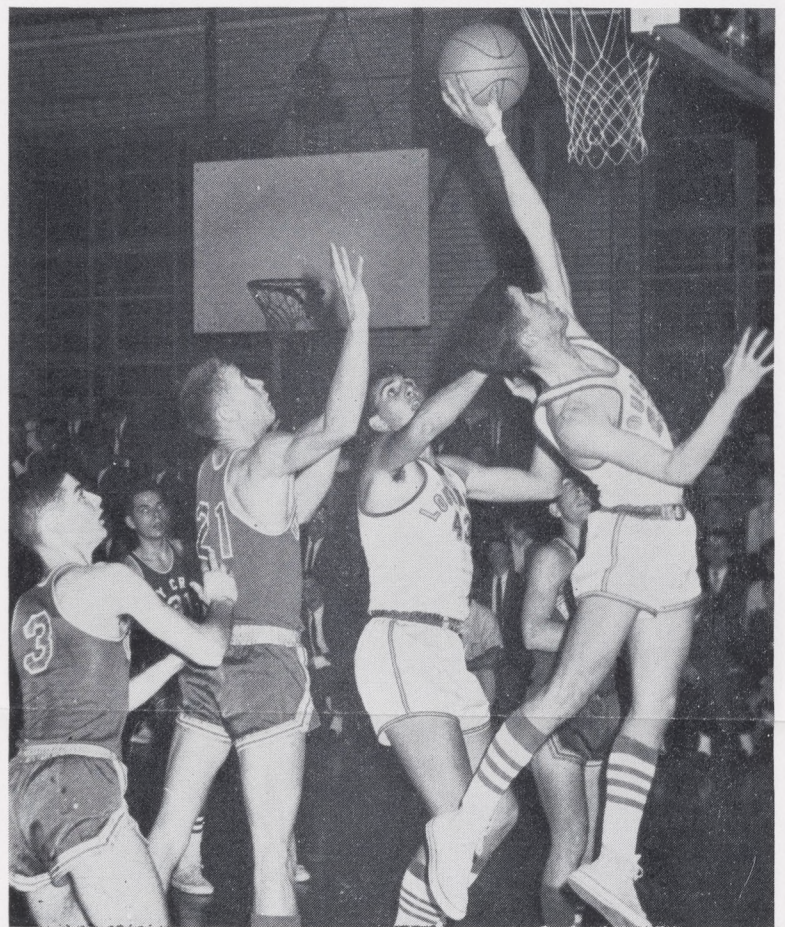

The Redmen of St. John's were next to engage the Lions and they surprised everyone as they jumped off to a 22 to 20 lead as the first period ended. Led by a 6'3" freshman, Hector Blondett, the Redmen remained close, down at halftime by only four points, 40 to 36. The second half saw the Loughlin Five completely outplay the smaller Johnnies and they soon took a twenty-four point advantage as the fourth quarter began. Coach Ralph Tedesco substituted freely and even when the buzzer sounded, the Lions were up, 82 to 56. Willie Wolters led all scorers with 21 markers.

The Lions then travelled to Jackson Heights to play the Crusaders of McClancy who proved to be tough, as their hustling defense kept the game close throughout the entire first half. In the third period, the

Harriers Exhibit Scoring Capacity

On December 8, the track team ventured to the State Armory at 168th St. to take part in the Relay Carnival. The Lions garnered 32 medals at this meet. The best efforts put forth by the team were those of the Mile Relay which took first place with a time of 3:32.5. The team is composed of Mike Zarzicki, Mike Ungeheur, Hal Nichter, and Mike Fitzsimons. Other top-notch efforts were produced by Jim Reynolds who took first place in the two mile run with a swift time of 9:56.8, while the juniors 880 relay squad set a meet record of 1:39.3. The team is composed of Catarillo, Angarola, Peterson and Ristuccia. The Novice 880 relay team won easily with a time of 1:39.8, while the sprint medley, 60 yard hurdle, and the second 880 relay squads closed out the scoring for Loughlin. Although no formal score was taken at this meet the Lions finished close to the lead of the pack.

The next challenge to confront the Lions was the annual Loughlin Games. The Purple 'n' Gold took fourth place in this meet. Again the Mile Relay team composed of Glasser, Ungeheur, and Leporati and Nichter took first place with a time of 3:33.2 and Jim Reynolds broke the school record for a two mile run with a sizzling time of 8:49.

Jeff Albies scores for the Lions as Willie Wolters follows up.

Lions still could not make any scoring threats until Willie Wolters dunked in a rebound which seemed to immediately raise the spirit of the team. The Lions then proceeded to score heavily throughout the final period and the final score was Loughlin 73, McClancy 52.

Lions Over Tigers

On December 18, the Lions encountered the tough Trinity Tigers and their zone press defense. Stymied a bit during the first half the varsity defense finally evaded the press and proceeded to take a nine point lead as the third quarter ended. The Tigers pressed gamely but they couldn't stop the scoring of Willie Wolters and the strong rebounding of John Zarzicki. Wolters again paced the scoring with 25 points. The final score was Loughlin 81, Holy Trinity 67.

Friday night, December 21, found the varsity hoopsters in Bay Ridge to meet the Xaverian Clippers. The home team put on quite a defensive show and led the visitors by one as the half ended. The Lions began to solve the tenacious defense and midway through the final period led by three points. The final score of 57 to 48 was deceiving as the Hoopsters scored six quick points during the last minute. Jeff Albies had 23 points and John Zarzicki and Willie Wolters both did a fine rebounding job.

Place Second In CB Tourney

In the initial contest of the Christian Brothers Tournament, Cardinal Spellman High School, just four years old, played host to the taller Lions on December 27. Even though they were very much outclassed, they never ceased hustling and never once did they give up on a play. Led by Willie Wolters, with 22, and Jeff Albies, with 19, the Lions streaked to a 69 to 40 victory.

Manhattan Prep provided the Lions with the competition in the semi-final round, and paced by Willie Jones, who scored 20, they kept close to the hoopsters throughout and the game was never really won until midway through the final stanza. Loughlin was led by Willie Wolters, who tallied for 24, and the rebounding of John Zarzicki and the fine ball handling of Andre Violet and Jeff Albies. At the final gun the score was Loughlin 68, Manhattan Prep 54.

Last year's City Champions, La Salle Academy, met the Lions in the final game of the tournament at Manhattan College, with Val Reid and Chris Chimera returning from last year's squad. Loughlin never did get started and at the half they were down, mainly because of a 31% shooting average. Reid got the better of Wolters in this outing, scoring 23 to Willie's 16. Chris Chimera chipped in with 15 for the victors, who took it by five, 54 to 49.

Daniel Findlay Places First In Accordion Championship

Daniel Findlay, a senior of room 117, recently won first place in the sixteen years of age division of the United States Accordion Championship. The final competition took place at Charles Evans Hughes High School in Manhattan, Sunday, November 18.

The work which won him this honor was entitled "Fantasia," by the nineteenth century Hungarian composer Franz Liszt. The judging was based on three essential points: ability to master a difficult piece of music, the technique used in the interpretation and stage appearance.

This is not the first recognition which Daniel has received in this field. He holds the junior and senior CYO Accordion Championship and he is the Concert Master and organizer of an All Accordion Symphony which has performed for several Brooklyn organizations. Mr. Consoli said of him: "His many triumphs in accordion competition testify to the fact that he is an excellent musician, has been well trained, and the fruits of his perfection show great study and self discipline." Daniel will also participate in the upcoming New York State Open Accordion Championship in which he will perform the Hungarian Rhapsody, also by Liszt.

Daniel is an active member of St. Martin of Tours parish, Brooklyn, where he is in the Confraternity and plays at all parish dances. He has been a member of the school orchestra and enjoys all types of music including classical and popular. He is member of the Leo Honor Society, maintaining a 98 average over his last three years. His favorite subjects are Latin and French which he tutors to lower classmen. After graduation, Daniel plans to enter the diocesan priesthood.

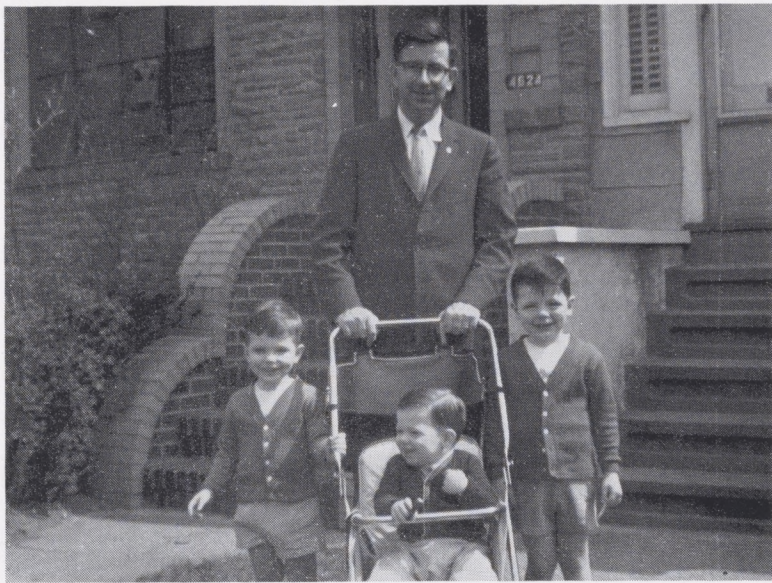

Faculty Focus

Mr. Christopher O'Toole

LOUIS IMBRIANO

Posing for Faculty Focus this month we find Mr. Christopher O'Toole, born and raised in Saint Teresa of Avila parish, Brooklyn. During his high school days at Saint Augustine, he was a member of the track team, running varsity cross country and the mile. He also spent eight months at a Trappist monastery but decided to withdraw and enter Saint Francis College where he attained a B.A. degree in Philosophy.

While at Saint Francis he was chosen a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Phi Rho Pi, a national Catholic fraternity. He was also elected to the "Duns Scotus" honor society.

Mr. O'Toole poses in front of his home with sons: (l-r) Edward, Donald and Christopher. He also has a son, John, not shown in the picture.

After being graduated from Saint Francis, he studied theology for three years at Saint Bonaventure College and later obtained a B.A. degree in Latin at Hunter College.

For the past seven years he has taught a number of subjects at Loughlin including English and French during his first years here and now Latin and algebra. He is a fellow student of room 116 where he is a daily visitor in Brother Christian's calculus class. He resides in Saint Thomas Aquinas parish where he is a member of the Nocturnal Adoration Society. As the father of four small sons: Christopher, 4; Edward, 3; Donald, 2; and John, nine months, he is kept busy in most of his spare moments. However, he still finds time at night to help out at community centers in Ridgewood and Canarsie. He commented that if, and when, he gets a vacation, he will enjoy his favorite pastimes — bicycling, swimming and traveling.

Senior Magazine Due To Be Published In Early February

The formation of a Senior Mag was announced at a meeting which was conducted January 8 by its editor-in-chief, Raymond Roswell, 108.

In addition to Roswell, other members of the Mag Staff include: Mike Monohan, 106, Kevin Mulcahy, 117, and Bob Russo, 108, as Associate editors; Rich Spagnuolo, 114, as cartoonist and Harry Melville, 108, as the circulation editor.

The purpose of the Senior Mag, as Kevin Mulcahy, one of the associate editors put it, is to "... express the attitudes of the student body, in general, toward certain problems in the school, but in particular it was designed to reflect the opinions and outlooks of the Senior Class. Secondly, it will serve as a humor stimulating magazine."

The Mag is self-supporting and is due to come out some time in early February. It is planned to be published once a month but this will depend on the eventual response to the Mag. The Mag takes its stories from those submitted by seniors as well as the ones written by the staff. Any senior wishing to have an article published in the Mag should give it to one of the editors.

Mr. Sheehan Celebrates His Twenty-Fifth Year Of Teaching At Loughlin

The faculty of Bishop Loughlin will attend a dinner tomorrow night, January 31, in honor of Mr. Joseph Sheehan, who celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary at Loughlin, January 4.

Mr. Sheehan was born in Brooklyn, of English-Irish origin. At different stages of his diversified career he has worked as a clerk, a freight handler, a camp counselor, a salesman of soap products, an ax-man and a teacher of Latin, English and Social Studies. He was graduated with an A.B. degree from Saint Francis College, Brooklyn, after having majored in Latin for three and one-half years. He received his preparatory training under the

The Apathetic Generation

Our generation has been dubbed by supposedly intelligent people as the "lost generation." Even the topic for the senior writing sample this year was a professor's generalization that our generation lacks initiative, is not inquisitive enough, and prefers that everything be "laid on the line." In substance, he did not regard our generation highly.

The majority of teenagers will probably disagree with this, presenting very good arguments against this and offering some very strong proof. Our generation is one of action. In 1954, the teenagers of Hungary revolted against the unfair practices of communism. In 1959, inadvisedly or not, the teenagers in Japan, because of ill-feeling toward the United States, prevented former-President Eisenhower from visiting that country. In 1961, President Kennedy asked all over the age of eighteen to join the peace corps. These events, more than anything else, have demonstrated the importance of our generation.

Crime of Indifference

Can these be initialed valid arguments? Will we revolt against an unfair practice or will we demonstrate for some just reason? The answer to all these questions is obviously no. The percentage that will join the peace corps will be so small that this spirit cannot be understood as the spirit of the majority. Those who firmly believe that their arguments are valid form a very elite group. This is sad because, even though many take the defensive stand against what the professor and many others have said, they prefer thinking that they don't lack the qualities of a good teenager. The truth really is that many are indifferent and nothing is being done to correct this situation. As a well known Catholic sociologist said "This may be the age of apathy, but apathy is by no means inevitable. It can be fought and overcome. Many must begin the fight."

Face Challenges

We can see distinctly now why our generation has been decried. It isn't that we have done something to degrade our generation but rather that our generation has not met the many challenges presented to it. We have fulfilled some but this has been done only by a small group. The majority do not agree or disagree with any program and are swayed easily. The psychologists think that many teenagers do not really know themselves and this is the real cause of apathy.

Truly, a feeling of apathy is predominant in our generation, today. We must realize that there are only a few who are working diligently. This apathy must be curtailed. It can be done, but it will take a long rigorous period. This is the time for apathy to end and we, more than anyone else, are responsible.

tutelage of the Benedictine Fathers at Belmont Abbey, Belmont, North Carolina. He was graduated from Hunter College with an M.A. degree in classics in September of last year.

Thesis Published

Mr. Sheehan gained recognition last November when his graduate thesis, entitled "Catholic Ideas of Death as Found in Aeneid VI" was published in the "Classical Folia" a journal edited by the Reverend Joseph M. Marique, S.J., head of the Department of Classics at Holy Cross College, Worcester, Massachusetts. During the last five years he has served as a rater of the Latin Sight Translation Contest and last May served in the same capacity for the New York Classical Club at Columbia University. He has also corrected essays for the scholarship contest given by the Knights of Columbus and is in the process of completing a term of three years as a member of the Executive Board of the Catholic Classical Association of Greater New York. Finally, Mr. Sheehan is now attempting an evaluation of two diverse approaches to the study of Latin as set forth in back articles of the "Classical Outlook." This is to be printed in the January edition of "The Forum", a publication edited and staffed by the members of the faculty of Loughlin.

A lover of music and dramatics, Mr. Sheehan participated in high school and college orchestras and dramatic clubs and sang in many operettas.

During his twenty five years at Loughlin, Mr. Sheehan has taught a number of present faculty including: Brother Bertram Edmund, Brother Christian, Brother Christopher Denis, Brother Lawrence Cormac, Mr. Grosse and Mr. Gehm.
